Your daughter may have mentioned that we intend to do some cooking in our classroom this year.

Each week two girls will have the opportunity to present a recipe to the class and later in the week cook their chosen recipe. Basic ingredients and equipment will be available in the classroom.

This is a wonderful opportunity for the girls to display or develop their culinary expertise and to also incorporate some mathematics and literacy in a practical way.

Girls are encouraged to plan this activity carefully, do their very best and produce a small tasting for each class member. Any known allergies will be taken into consideration. Please do not hesitate to let me know if you have any further questions.

On another note, the girls did a great job in Assembly. The next Year 6 Assembly will be the Final Assembly for the term.

Regards,

Amanda Evans
