Technology Acceptable Use Policy

Version: November 2013

Overview

Fahan School's technology facilities are recognised as significant tools in assisting student learning. The School seeks to ensure all students and other users are responsible for ensuring certain standards of responsibility are maintained relating to the use of all technology facilities within the School.

The School aims to provide a reliable and accessible network but cannot guarantee trouble free functioning at all times and will not be liable for any direct or indirect damages or loss. Students are responsible for the maintenance of their accounts.

All users are obliged to report problems or damages immediately to the relevant staff member.

Student Code of Conduct

- As part of the delivery of a modern and engaging curriculum all students will have access to computer, internet and online facilities and services and be provided with an account.
- The privacy of other students is to be respected at all times.
- Fahan staff may review files or communications as a means of ensuring the integrity of the system is maintained and that students are using the system responsibly.

- Bullying (or inappropriate use of technology) often occurs outside of the school's physical grounds yet these actions can impact the safety of our students as though they have occurred at school. Any such behavior demonstrated at school or outside of school that affects our school community will be addressed by the school.
- In serious cases, suspension, expulsion or the involvement of law agencies may be invoked.
- A Breach of copyright is an offence, therefore all use of sources should be appropriately recognised.
- No student is permitted to use the passwords of another student, interfere with another student's files, disrupt their access, or waste resources intentionally.

I agree to abide by the rules and responsibilities for computer users as laid down by the School.
I understand that this agreement is binding throughout the period of my education at the School.
